The Sunday schools gave a repetition vesterday at the tabernacie of the programme, with which, a week ago, they did honor to the ninetieth anniversary of the birthday of President Wilford Woodruff.

Woodruff.

The attendance was larger than usual, for the regular Sunday services, although there was not the great crush which accompanied the services of one week age. Yesterday was the customary fast day, and the exception of holding services on the eccasion was for the purpose of giving those who were debarred from seeing the exercises of one week age an opportunity to witness the entertainment furnished by the children of the Sunday schools.

The speech by Elder George A.

The speech by Elder George A. Smith, in which he gave an epitome of the life of President Woodruff, was given again at the meeting of yester-President Woodruff also addressed the audience briefly, and the p gramme was gone through exactly given before, Professor E. K. Bass conducted the choir and children.

One important function of prayer, in its true spiritual significance, is that it helps to establish a conscious con-action between the individual soul of feature deserving special mention was the quartette, "We Ever Pray for Thee," sung by four children, for Peterson, Mamie Mills, Rose Smithin and Louie Bull. entire power of the central dynamo is called into play to send a flood of light into our homes. Man's life alone is weak, meaningless and empty. It gains strength, significance and ful-ness as it comes into conscious relation Vallejo, Cal., March 7.-Eighty-five mechanics and helpers were discharged from the steam engineering department ness as it comes into conscious relation with the universal life. Prayer is a means to bring our finite spirits into contact with the infinite apirit.

Another function of prayer is that it gives clearness of insight. It is a significant fact to drop into the conflicting philosophies of our time that spiritual health and purity conduce to clearness of vision. It is the pure in heart who from the steam engineering department yesterday afternoon, and it is expected that at least as many more will be compelled to pack up their tools and leave the station within the next week. It is said that the cause for this extensive decrease in the force of workmen is that there is not enough material on hand to continue work now well under way. The navy yard officials are seriously handicapped by the slowness with which the powers at Washington distribute supplies and material. There is considerable work nearing completion and an abundance of money to carry it on, but the needed supplies in some departments are not yet in sight. health and purity conduce to clearness of vision. It is the pure in heart who may see God. The intuitions of childhood are often truer than the reasonings of maturity, because the child life is truer, and hence more sensitive to truth. Prayer opens the windows of the soul to let in the sunlight of God's truth. It lifts the soul into that realm of perfect light which "shineth more and more into the perfect day."

newspapers are being published here asserting that if war should occur between Great Britain and Germany the former would close up every German port and blockade the entire German coast. The publication of these extracts has had a tendency to strengthen the kaiser's naval policy with the public. While an open quarrel with Engiand is not yet within sight, there is a general feeling that something of the kind may happen in the near future. One drift of the popular discussion of the situation, is that it would be well to be amply prepared when such an event occurs. Chancellor Prince Von Hohenlohe has arranged to speak before the budget committee of the reichstag tomorrow, and will announce upon that occasion that the ministers are solidly in favor of the naval demands, and will under no circumstances depart from their position.
